

Palo Alto
o n l i n e

June 25, 2008

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE ... The American Institute of CPAs recently announced a business alliance with Palo Alto's Bill.com to provide CPAs with the company's online tools to help their clients manage, review and pay bills. The goal is to make accounting services such as accounts payable and accounts receivable more cost-effective for small businesses and more efficient for their accountants. Bill.com also allows companies to store all documents and transactions in one place and be securely accessed remotely.

FYI is a regular feature announcing news and events related to the Palo Alto business community. Send news to In Business editor Allen Clapp at aclapp@paweekly.com